What size shipping container do I Need?

Choosing the right size is critical as it impacts both cost and usability. The 20-foot, 40-foot, and 40-foot High Cube containers are the most common sizes for shipping containers that are to be used for export shipment or for storage. Both sizes are large enough to hold a substantial amount of freight and fit into loading slots on container ships.

What is a new shipping container?

New shipping containers are pristine, and in most cases they've only made one trip from the manufacturer to their current location. This "one-way" journey means the container is in excellent condition, free from the wear and tear associated with frequent use. Here's the breakdown of costs for new shipping containers:

How does global container shipping work?

Global container shipping has significantly grown during the past two decades (United Nations). Trade volume differences. Traditionally, shipping companies address this by transferring containers between ports using spare ship capacity. However, this does not generate revenue and incurs container management costs (CMCs).
